

VOTING of the 105th Congress RECORD

A SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM YOUR INTERNATIONAL OFFICERS

Political action is not something that takes place only around Election Day. In order to stand up for ourselves as working people, we need constant involvement in the legislative and political processes so that we can truly make our voices heard.

One of the key ingredients of effective political action is holding our elected representatives accountable for their positions. Promises are not enough. Each of us needs to know how our Senators and Representatives voted when the chips were down.

That is why we are pleased to publish this voting record of the 105th Congress, which was in office from January 1997 until the swearing in of the 106th Congress on January 6, 1999. The 105th Congress was active right up until the end of 1998, and we have included votes that were cast shortly before the election. The tabulation of these votes must be done with great care, as it is important to present a completely accurate picture of how these officials acted on key issues affecting IBEW members and all working people in the United States.

The voting record is important for several reasons. First, it allows rank-and-file members to hold their elected officially accountable. Union members are urged to thank members of Congress for their support or encourage them to be more favorable to labor's position on issues, whichever the case may be. Second, the record is a lobbying tool that can be used to show Senators and Representatives that IBEW members—their constituents—are active participants in the political and legislative processes and are monitoring their votes. Also, the record provides a good overall picture of a member's support for or opposition to working people's issues and serves as a valuable guide on whom to support or oppose in the next election.

As we have stated, the newly rediscovered grass roots activism of the labor movement is one of the most positive developments in years. By acting in unity and solidarity—time-tested principles—working people can have a positive impact on the decisions that affect their working lives and on the future of their families and communities.

And so, we urge every IBEW member to keep this record handy. Since this covers the 105th Congress, some Senators and Representatives no longer hold the offices in which they are listed. These are marked for your information. The vast majority of members of the House and Senate, however, are still in office, and this guide will help you determine where they stand. Let's use the information in this voting record to help build stronger support for issues that affect us all.

U.S. Senate KEY VOTES

1—Nuclear Waste

The Senate passed the Nuclear Waste Policy Act of 1997 (S. 104), which mandated construction of a temporary storage site for high-level nuclear waste at Yucca Mountain, Nevada. The bill passed by a 65-34 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #42, April 15, 1997: SUPPORT (Yes = Right, No = Wrong).

2—Comp Time

S. 4 sought to amend the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938. Instead of paying private-sector workers cash for overtime worked after eight hours, it allowed employers to pay workers in compensatory time off with weak penalties for violating the provisions. Worker-friendly lawmakers staged a filibuster (opened debate designed to kill a bill) and defeated a cloture motion (vote to cut-off debate) that would have moved the bill to a 51-47 vote (60 votes are needed for cloture). The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #93, June 4, 1997: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

3—Fast Track

This bill allowed the President of the United States to submit bills implementing trade pacts to Congress with no amendments allowed and no opportunity to add worker and human rights protections. Fast Track opponents in the Senate staged a filibuster against a motion to bring the bill (S. 1269) to the floor; however, the Senate voted to kill the filibuster by a 69-31 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #292, November 4, 1997: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

4—Paycheck Deception/Union Dues

S. 1663 would have singled out labor unions for cumbersome political fund-raising restrictions by requiring union members to sign a government form every year to allow a portion of their dues to be used for pro-worker political and legislative activities, eliminating the worker's voice from the political process. This bill died on the Senate floor when it failed on a cloture vote of 45-54. IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #17, February 26, 1998: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

5—Foreign Worker Visas

High Tech Industry claims there are not enough skilled American workers. Instead of putting resources into training Americans, companies sought to expand the number of H-1B visas to allow more immigrants into the U.S. to fill high-tech jobs. Despite organized labor's concerns that the bill did not include worker protection language or training provisions, the bill passed by a vote of 78-20. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #141, May 18, 1998: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

6—Social Security

The Republican-controlled Congress wanted to finance an election-year tax cut largely by using the Social Security Trust Fund surplus. The Hollings Amendment to S. 2260 sought to "save Social Security first" by reserving any fiscal 1999 budget surplus for that purpose. The Senate rejected this amendment by a 47-53 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #222, July 22, 1998: SUPPORT (Yes = Right, No = Wrong).

7—Right to Organize/Anti-Salting

S. 1981 would have outlawed the practice of “salting” by which building trades union members hire on at non-union companies in order to organize them. The worker-friendly members of the Senate threatened to filibuster, so the Republican leadership proceeded with a cloture vote. They failed to garner the 60 votes needed for cloture, so the bill died. The cloture vote was 52-42. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #266, September 14, 1998: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

8—Minimum Wage

Senator Edward Kennedy (D-MA) introduced a bill to raise the minimum wage 50 cents in 1999 and 50 cents in 2000, raising it from $5.15 per hour to $6.15 per hour over two years. The Democrats tried, by amending the Consumer Bankruptcy Revisions bill with the increase, to force a vote on minimum wage. The Republican majority voted to table, or kill, the amendment. The IBEW supported the bill to raise the minimum wage; and we opposed the motion to table the amendment, because it would not give Senators the opportunity to vote on the bill itself. The vote to table passed by a 55-44 vote on the actual bill. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #278, September 22, 1998: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

U.S. House of Representatives KEY VOTES

1—Comp Time

H.R. 1 sought to allow employers to avoid paying private-sector workers cash for overtime worked after eight hours, and instead give compensatory time off. The bill passed by a 222-210 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #59, March, 19, 1997: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

2—Taxes/Independent Contractors

The Taxpayer Relief Act included a provision that would re-classify millions of employees as “independent contractors.” This allows employers to avoid paying their share of Social Security and Medicare taxes, and strips re-classified workers of benefits and protections like Workers’ Compensation, prevailing wage laws or the Family and Medical Leave Act. The bill passed by a 253-179 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #245, June 26, 1997: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

3—Worker Protections

The Employment Standards Administration is the government agency that enforces minimum wage, child labor, and anti-sweatshop laws, as well as the Davis-Bacon, Service Contract, and Family and Medical Leave Acts. The McIntosh Amendment proposal to slash $4.3 million from the agency’s budget would have reduced enforcement of these worker protections. The amendment was defeated by a 167-260 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #367, September 5, 1997: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

4—National Labor Relations Board Funding

Since 1992, anti-labor lawmakers have been whittling away at the NLRB budget as a way to weaken enforcement of laws that protect workers. The Hayworth Amendment to the Department of Labor, Health and Human Services budget proposed an additional 15 percent cut. The amendment failed by a 170-253 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #385, September 10, 1997: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

5—Prevailing Wage/D.C. Appropriations

Congress took aim at IBEW construction workers’ paychecks in the District of Columbia with a bill to waive the prevailing wage law on school construction and repair projects. The IBEW supported the amendment to strike the provision that gutted Davis-Bacon in the FY 1998 D.C. spending bill. The amendment passed by a 234-188 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #511, October 9, 1997: SUPPORT (Yes = Right, No = Wrong).

6—Rail Worker Restrictions/Amtrak Reform

Rail unions (IBEW included) and Amtrak have had heated disputes over various labor reform and worker protections including proposed changes in severance and contracting practices. The LaTourette amendment to the FY 1998 Amtrak Reform and Privatization Act brought the

The Quinn substitute to the LaTourette Amendment blocked rail unions and Amtrak from negotiating over the labor reform issues. The Quinn substitute was defeated by a 195-223 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #529, October 24, 1997: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

7-Nuclear Waste

The U.S. House of Representatives passed the Nuclear Waste Policy Act, which mandated construction of a temporary storage site for high-level nuclear waste at Yucca Mountain, Nevada. This bill forced the Department of Energy to develop an integrated management system for spent nuclear fuel being stored in 41 states. The bill passed by a 307-120 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #557, October 30, 1997: SUPPORT (Yes = Right, No = Wrong).

8-Right to Organize/Anti-Salting

H.R. 3246 would have outlawed the practice of "salting" by which building and construction trades union members "hire on" at non-union contracting companies with the intent to organize them. The bill passed by a vote of 202-200. IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #78, March 26, 1998: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

9-Paycheck Deception/Union Dues

H.R. 2608 would have singled out unions for harsh restrictions by requiring members to sign a government form every year to allow a portion of their dues to be used for pro-worker political and legislative activities. This bill failed on the House floor by a vote of 166-246. IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #83, March 30, 1998: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

10-TEA-21 (Transportation)

Congress passed a compromise transportation bill that provides $216 billion in funding over six years for the nation's highway and transportation infrastructure. Many IBEW members in transportation-related jobs will receive additional support from the dollars provided by TEA-21, and other members will benefit from employment on construction projects funded through the package. The House passed the final version of the bill by a 297-86 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #192, May 22, 1998: SUPPORT (Yes = Right, No = Wrong).

11-Fast Track

H.R. 2621 would allow the President to submit foreign trade bills to Congress requiring up-or-down votes without an opportunity to add labor and environmental protections. Fast Track opponents rallied enough support to kill the bill by a 180-243 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #466, September 25, 1998: OPPOSE (Yes = Wrong, No = Right).

12-Social Security

The Republican-controlled Congress wanted to pass an election-year tax cut, financed largely by the Social Security Trust Fund reserves. The Rangel substitute amendment prohibited most of the cuts from taking effect until Congress addressed the long-term solvency of Social Security. The House rejected this substitute by a 197-227 vote. The IBEW position on Official Roll Call Vote #468, September 26, 1998: SUPPORT (Yes = Right, No = Wrong).
